Your PIP appeal

Appeal reference number: 1732538054339074

Dear Appellant User

Your Personal Independence Payment (PIP) appeal has been lodged with the tribunal. We have told Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) that you are appealing against their decision.

What happens next

DWP has to respond to your appeal by 23 December 2024. You'll receive another letter when they have responded. If DWP do not respond by this date then we will send them a reminder.

You do not have to do anything unless you have more evidence or information that you want the tribunal to consider. You may want to wait until you have read the information that DWP sends when they respond to your appeal.

Sending evidence to support your appeal

Evidence is any information that supports your side of the appeal, such as a letter, written statement or medical report. It can help the tribunal understand the facts of your appeal. You do not have to send in evidence, but it can help your appeal.

If you want to submit any further evidence in support of your appeal, the quickest way is to do this online and if you have already provided your email address, we will have already emailed you a link which will enable you to do this. If you cannot submit evidence online, please post any evidence to the address which is on the 'evidence cover sheet' included with this letter. Make sure you include your 'evidence cover sheet' when you post it. This is so we can match it to your appeal.

Track your appeal online

You can receive updates about your appeal by email or text message. They contain useful information and a link so you can track your appeal online. You can sign up to receive them by phoning the number below.

If you gave your email address or you signed up to text messages when you submitted your appeal then you will already be signed up to notifications.
